

Legros Ranch

My family and I ranch just south of Cadillac, SK. We raise organic, black angus beef on 5,000 acres of native and tame grass. Ranching is a way of life that our family truly enjoys, and everyone gets to help. The kids have their own horses, and all play a role in the day to day duties. From forking feed to calves, and feeding horses, to sorting and chasing cows to new pastures. When all the chores have been done, it's off to the rink twice a week for hockey practice, dance class and playschool! Summertime is busy with putting up hay for the winter, and checking cows. We also help look after a Co-op pasture with 800 cows on 27 sections of native grass, so the kids get a chance to improve their riding skills.
